We recognize that the loyalty of our customers depends upon our relationships with them, and we strongly support the rights of customers to maintain privacy of personal data.

What Information Do We Collect?

We collect information in several different ways. We collect the domain name of visitors to our web pages, user-specific information on the page's visitors access, and information such as survey information or other information that you provide voluntarily. Like many other commercial websites, our website may employ a standard technology called a "cookie" to collect information about how our site is used. With respect to cookies: We use cookies to store visitors' preferences, record session information, record user-specific information on what pages users' access or visit, record past activity at a site to provide better service when visitors return to our site, customize Web page content based on visitors' browser type or other information that the visitor sends.

How the Information Is Used

We use the information that we collect to understand your preferences and history using our website and related services. With this information we will make it easier and more rewarding for you to use our website and any related services.

Our ability to provide enhanced services may occasionally depend on our ability to develop summary reports for our advertising agents that contain raw numbers or statistics (but we never tell them who it was that stated a preference or clicked on an option).

It is our policy to never send messages to website users unless they request that we do so.

Not only do we not sell "ownership" of your information, but we also do not sell the use of it either. We will not sell ownership of this data to any other company or organization.

We will not transfer information to competitors. Your information will always be used only to help us ensure that our website and any related services meet your expectations. At MEGATRONICS, your personal information is safe. We don't give, share, sell, or lend your information.

It is not our usual policy but from time to time we may permit other companies to place advertising on our website, and these companies may collect information about you using cookies when you view or click on their advertising or content (using the same techniques described above). Due to the way the Internet operates, we cannot control this collection of information. You should contact these advertisers or content providers if you have any questions about their use of the information they collect.
